The information in this report is current to 2022-02-11 at 1230 hours.

Owing to the current social protest landscape this Situation Report is organized into three main sections, each with specific information relevant to Ottawa, Toronto, and Ontario.

PREFACE: The format of this Situation Report delineates between police information and information gathered through open sources. Media and social media information has been incorporated in this report towards developing all-source intelligence in support of providing greater context, and which may identify indicators, ideologies, and attitudes that could motivate subjects of interest and influence their behaviours.

STATE OF EMERGENCY DECLARED

- This morning, Premier FORD announced that he had declared a province-wide state of emergency in response to the ongoing protests and blockades. He noted that he would be convening cabinet in order to enact orders that will clearly articulate the illegality of blocking and impeding the movement of goods, people, and services along critical infrastructure. Maximum fines will be set at $100,000 and up to one year imprisonment. He also stated that authority will be granted to remove personal and commercial driver's licenses from anyone found in violation of the orders.

OTTAWA: POLICE INFORMATION & OBSERVATIONS

Provincial Operations Intelligence Bureau

- OPP reporting identified new anti-police signs at the blockade.
- OPP reporting identified vehicles at the blockade that had deflated front tires and one that had a chain through its front and rear tires.
- OPP reported that the tone at the blockade had changed: it was louder, with a more festive atmosphere, but officers noted more suspicious stares. The sense was that people on site are trying to identify police.
- OPP reporting noted that three OPS officers were ticketing parked vehicles when eight protestors ran up to them, got very close and filmed them.
- OPP officers noted trucks gathering and repositioning at certain intersections in what was described as defensive positions.
- OPP officers noted a group of about 15 people yelling and swearing at a CNN news crew.
- OPP reporting indicates that while attempting to clear the intersection of Rideau and Sussex as agreed with organizers, the members of FARFADAA advised they would not let trucks leave. Supporters later formed a line in front of the trucks that were trying to leave.

OTTAWA: OPEN SOURCE INFORMATION (Media and Social Media)

Items in this section are presented in order of seriousness of the potential threat:

- Open source research has identified the following:
 - A video featuring [REDACTED] in which he says that he believes that the police will move “tonight” or in the morning to make arrests. It is unknown when the video was recorded.
 - Social media messaging indicating that [REDACTED] is the author of the convoy’s daily reports.
 - Open source reporting indicates that truck convoys may attend local schools in support of the school walkouts scheduled for today.
 - Social media messaging in the name of SKBIGOTS indicating that a convoy may be travelling from Saskatoon, Saskatchewan through Regina to Ottawa. The profile image is of the Saskatchewan Coat of Arms imposed on the DIAGONAL flag. One user posted a message on the SKBIGOTS social media that the “CDS” has received “the order”. We infer that “CDS” is a reference to the Chief of Defence Staff, and reflects a belief by the user that the military is being called in to Ottawa.
 - Social media messaging about a Taxpayers Convoy on 2022-02-12 departing Vineland at 0700 and travelling to Ottawa.
 - A video in which two police officers are surrounded by protestors and engaged in a discussion. One protestor was expressing frustration at the government over vaccine mandates for air travel. The officers appeared to be attempting to prevent escalation.

- A video featuring [REDACTED], who indicates that on 2022-02-11 they would hold a moment of silence for Indigenous children (Every Child Matters) at 1400 hours at the main stage. He also offered encouragement for the school walkout scheduled for the same date.

OTHER

- Social media information identified and shared by a partner agency offers the suggestion to block railway lines by building snowmen on the tracks.
- Social media messaging under the name “The Real [REDACTED]” states that “WE WILL BE THE NEW GOVERNMENT”. The message goes on to state that “we will just take the power and share it.”
- Open source research identified a video featuring a male in Canadian Armed Forces uniform who self-identified as Major [REDACTED]. [REDACTED] accuses the government of coercion and violence against Canadians in regard to COVID-19 vaccines. He calls on the medical community to halt children’s vaccinations and deems ongoing vaccinations as genocide. He then calls on the military and police to stand up against the government’s “tyranny”. His comments indicate that he may reside in Fredericton, New Brunswick.
- The new fundraiser on GiveSendGo has raised almost $8.8 M USD and a Bitcoin wallet for the blockade contains almost $1.2M CAD. The ADOPT A TRUCKER account on GiveSendGo has raised over $714,000 CAD.
- Media reporting indicates that the Ontario Superior Court has granted the provincial government’s request to freeze access to the funds raised on GiveSendGo to support the ongoing blockade. The court order prevents anyone from distributing donations raised on the platform. A statement by GiveSendGo shared on social media for the Freedom Convoy reflects the company’s position that Canada has no jurisdiction over its operations and that the funds are still being released. The potential impact of the Ontario court order is unknown.

ASSESSMENT

At the time of writing, the contents of the pending order pursuant to the declaration of a state of emergency, and its potential implications for policing in Ontario, are unknown.

The situation in Ottawa remains fluid and potentially volatile. The declaration of the state of emergency is likely to be met with anger and defiance by some protestors and their supporters in Ottawa and elsewhere in Ontario. It is also likely to feed the narrative of the repressive state and could increase tensions between protestors and police at blockades. Some protestors and supporters are likely to ignore the order, particularly those who may feel emboldened by the Ottawa blockade’s success. Both scenarios could result in potential conflict.

However, the order may dissuade some protestors and supporters from remaining in the blockade in Ottawa and attending current and upcoming protests at border points. This could result in internal conflict between protestors, and, possibly, retribution against those who wish to leave.

It is likely that some protestors may attempt to sidestep the order by conducting low-level “nuisance” actions: coordinated one-time slow rolls carried out in concurrently in multiple decentralized locations to divert and disperse police resources may become a preferred tactic.

Social media claims by organizers or others in both Ottawa and Toronto indicate that they are receiving information about police plans and tactics with regard to the ongoing protests. Some incidents are almost certainly indicative of an insider threat, while other incidents may be misinformation. However, the threat of police information being disclosed could complicate planning for enforcement action against protestors.

Project HENDON has identified no concrete, specific, or credible public safety threat with regard to the Freedom Convoy protest, Operation BearHug 2.0., or local solidarity protests.

However, the situation remains volatile. The potential for conflict or an act of violence is likely increasing as the Ottawa blockade continues, and may have increased as a result of the declaration of a state of emergency in the province.
